

$3.00

Summer, 1981/1982

Vol 6, No 4.

Reg. No. VAW 4651

Bonding and the provision of suitable day care facilities

The Uncle Bobs Club child development centre

The effects of illness and hospitalization of children on their families

A primary prevention programme for migrant children in a Queensland high school

IN THIS ISSUE

Australian
Child and Family
Welfare
(QUARTERLY)

EDITORIAL	2
Margarita Frederico
PERMANENCY PLANNING: AN OVERVIEW	3
Denzil McCotter.
“Permanency planning has been described as a revolution in child welfare.” This article examines the development of permanency planning and its implications for practice.
BONDING AND THE PROVISION OF SUITABLE DAY CARE FACILITIES	8
Margaret Clyde.
Margaret Clyde reviews research into bonding and relates this to the debate regarding different types of day care.
THE UNCLE BOBS CLUB CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTRE	11
Barbara Rounsevell.
Barbara Rounsevell describes a programme for disabled children which actively engages the child’s family whilst focusing on the child’s overall development.
THE EFFECTS OF ILLNESS AND HOSPITALIZATION OF CHILDREN ON THEIR FAMILIES	16
Mary Tong.
This article indentifies dynamics which may be present in a family when a child is ill. The author suggest ways to assist families undergoing this stress.
A PRIMARY PREVENTION PROGRAMME FOR MIGRANT CHILDREN IN A QUEENSLAND HIGH SCHOOL	20
Michelle Barker and Kent Smith.
This programme was offered to students who were newly arrived in Australia. The programme aimed at assisting the students cope with new expectations whilst taking pride in their own culture.
REGULAR FEATURES
BOOK REVIEW	26
LIST OF BOOKS RECEIVED FOR REVIEW	28