The National Children's Bureau of Australia is an independent non-government organization committed to improving the quality of care and life opportunities available to children in Australia. Since its establishment in 1971, the NCBA has played an important advocacy role in support of children. Through its publications, Information Service, conferences and research activities, the NCBA promotes a national and multi-disciplinary approach to children's issues.

The Bureau and its publications committee seek to provide in the journal an opportunity for providers to report on their work. It is also a forum where those concerned with the welfare of families and children might share their viewpoints with others. The views expressed therefore are not necessarily the views of the Bureau, the publications committee or the editor.

Citation of material should carry the name and issue of the journal. Permission to reproduce articles should be sought from the author.
